DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species of the manner of fixing the resilient bush are as follows (see page 6, lines 10+ of the Substitute Specification):

- A1: Wherein the fixing is by crimping.
- A2: Wherein the fixing is by expansion-rolling.
- A3: Wherein the fixing is by welding.
- A4: Wherein the fixing is by screwing.

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species A1-A4: claim 11

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 10 and 16.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: "the special technical feature of species A1 is crimping while the special technical feature of species A2 is expansion-rolling. Since the special technical feature of species A1 is not present in claims drawn to species A2 and the special technical feature of species A2 is not present in claims drawn to species A1, unity of invention is lacking. An analogous argument can be made with regard to species A3 and A4, as to why unity of invention is lacking.

2. Upon election of one of the species identified above as A1-A4, applicant is further required to elect a single species of the number of end pieces to which the resilient bush is fixed, for purposes of examination. For example, applicant may elect one end piece alone, preferably the bottom end piece (see claim 12) or two end pieces alone, i.e., top and bottom pieces (see claim 13). This additional requirement is to facilitate examining due to the diverse species disclosed as suitable (see page 6, lines 13+ of the Substitute Specification).

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1, for reasons similar to that given in section 1 above.

3. If the resilient bush is elected to be fixed to the bottom end piece, applicant is further required to elect a single species of the construction variant, for purposes of examination. For example, applicant may the variant shown in Fig. 4A alone (see claim 14) or the variant shown in Fig. 4B alone (see claim 15). This additional requirement is to facilitate examining due to the diverse species disclosed as suitable (see page 6, lines 18+ of the Substitute Specification).

Art Unit: 3663

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1, for reasons similar to that given in section 1 above.

4. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Rick Palabrica whose telephone number is 571-272-6880. The examiner can normally be reached on 6:00-4:30, Mon-Thurs.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Jack Keith can be reached on 571-272-6878. The fax
